

invention where that addition can be a temporary or permanent attachment of the adjustable apparatus. Species V (FIG 8) and species VI (FIG 9) show details of the adjustable apparatus that can separately manufactured and then attached to machines that were manufactured without benefit of the invention. These two species are the same adjustable apparatus of the invention that can be used with existing machines that are well know and used in the industry.

In view of the above, reconsideration and withdrawal of the restriction requirement are earnestly and respectfully requested.

Early, favorable prosecution on the merits is requested.

Respectfully submitted
